The cast of 93 actors and actresses, ages 7 to 70, is one of the largest ever included in the program. Bill Ambron, retired Englewood High School drama teacher, returned this year to direct his 33rd summer show.

Can Governments Give the People What They Want?

It's not that governments don't want to give the public the services they demand, it's that they increasingly can't afford to -- even by raising taxes.

BY: Frank Shafroth | July 2014

Know what a trend gap is? It's the difference between governments' long-term ability to provide public services that the public demands, and citizens' willingness to pay for those services.

That's according to Bo Zhao and David Coyne, two economists who have been using the phrase as a measure of the long-term fiscal sustainability of states and localities.

The overall state- and local-sector trend gap has been growing over the past three decades and has accelerated in the last 10 years, say Zhao and Coyne in a new working paper for the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. By 2010, the gap reached more than $1,000 per capita. Put another way, excluding short-term cyclical influences, the revenue-raising capacity of governments fell short of the amount needed to meet public service demands and fulfill long-term obligations by more than $1,000 per person. The trend gap varies greatly from region to region. The Pacific states had the highest gap of about $1,600 per capita on average, followed by New England states at $1,250 and the East-South-Central states at $750 per capita.

While the most recent figures find that revenues have increased nationwide since the 2008 recession, the authors project that growth will be essentially flat nationwide this year. The trend gap, however, will be influenced by the continuing rise in costs for state and local governments' long-term obligations -- including Medicaid (where spending grew 10 percent annually, outpacing the 6 percent annual average of state revenue growth) and public pension obligations. The failure of states and localities to address the trend gap, the authors write, will have several negative consequences.

First, it could shift the fiscal burden to future generations of taxpayers, creating intergenerational inequity.

Second, state and local governments will have to cut back significantly on public services to balance budgets. Such a disruption to public services would harm residents' quality of life and the local business environment.

And last, credit ratings could suffer, driving up borrowing costs. In the most extreme case, a severe lack of fiscal sustainability might cause investors to leave the municipal bond market, threatening the stability of the entire financial system.

The Federal Reserve paper is not the only one to address the gap. In April, the Los Angeles 2020 Commission issued the second of a two-part report, noting, "Los Angeles is barely treading water."

The report, A Time For Truth, pulls together a challenging list of issues, ranging from widespread poverty and job stagnation to huge municipal pension obligations and paralyzing traffic -- even while noting the City of Angels is agleam with talent and resources, albeit becoming less globally competitive. "Year by year, our city -- which once was a beacon of innovation and opportunity to the world -- is becoming less livable."

The issue of sustainability raises the question about what citizens want from their government and how much it will cost. Currently, the demand for public services from constituents is outpacing the ability of those governments to meet it -- even by raising taxes.

Public officials tend to focus on the next budget deadline or the next election. Increasingly, that short-term outlook fails to open a discussion on what services will have to cease as our generation consumes more without investing in tomorrow's needs.

As one of the most thoughtful leaders I know told me, "Something's gotta give." He says that states and localities have been in such denial about "service level solvency" that he is now spending a third of his time on the issue. He believes the sustainability of state and local governments will be the most critical issue in the country over the next two decades.

Englewood wants to swap land parcels in Highlands Ranch

By Clayton Woullard
YourHub Reporter

Englewood will be asking voters for approval of a land swap with Shea Properties in Highlands Ranch that would eventually allow the city to lease the land it gets in the swap to developers.

Leasing the land could mean the city brings in hundreds of thousands of dollars in revenue from future development, said Englewood Mayor Randy Penn.

Englewood owns 12.3 acres in Highlands Ranch fronting Lucent Boulevard, between Plaza Drive and Town Center Drive.

The city wants to swap that with a parcel of equal size that is about a quarter-mile to the southwest, closer to Town Center Drive. That parcel is owned by Shea Properties, the primary developer in Highlands Ranch.

Shea already owns land to the north of Englewood’s property; a swap would allow for contiguous development.

The Englewood property needs to be leveled and doesn’t serve the city’s purposes, but it would work for Shea.

“There’s really not a negative, because most people don’t know — unfortunately — that we even own that land out there,” Penn said. “This just gives us an opportunity to increase our ability to have more development and development sooner on these properties than later.”

Penn said most likely the swapped land would be developed for retail or office, not residential.

Currently the city leases out three pieces of property at Lucent Boulevard and C-470 to the Ben Franklin Academy charter school and to the Mike Ward Infiniti and Larry Miller Nissan car dealerships. Penn said those leases bring about $700,000 of income every year and the leases are for 75 years.

Englewood came to own land in Douglas County when it established the Englewood/McLell Reservoir Foundation in 1999, to protect the watershed of the reservoir that had been built in the 1950s. The reservoir runs along Cour Line Road east of South Santa Drive to the Highline Canal.

Penn said council is determined not to sell the Highlands Ranch parcel, because the city can make money leasing the property.

“We want to have that continuous cash flow coming into the city Englewood, and, at the end of the leases, the city of Englewood has the land,” Penn said.

Englewood Deputy City Manager Mike Flaherty said that while it is not a sale of the land, the city attorney has deemed the land swap tantamount to a sale and needs to be approved by voters.

Peter Culshaw, executive vice president of Shea Properties, explained the proposal this way:

“Everyone gets kind of a bet configuration of land and, frankly more useful parcel, and it matches where the roads are going to go the future so we’re not chopping a piece of perfectly good land with road through the middle,” he said. “It’s just a very logical thing to do.”

this location and staff is working with the listing broker to stay informed about prospective users for the site. The owners are interested in installing a new store front entryway and glazing. This activity is being taken to dress up the building and make it more attractive for prospective tenants. Commercial Catalyst grant application under review.

- 180 East Hampden – The property is under new ownership. Staff has contacted the new owner to discuss a possible catalyst grant to support façade enhancements. Commercial Catalyst grant application approved. Two new tenants have leased space in the building. One tenant is an ophthalmologist the other is an OBGYN.

- Chase Bank – A 5,000sf pad site is being considered for construction at the Chase Bank property. This pad site would be adjacent to US 285 and Elati.

- Landmark Lincoln – The property owner for Landmark Lincoln is working towards a substantial façade enhancement. This project involves a significant investment in rebranding the building to be consistent with corporate requirements and involves a small expansion of the building.

- 65 West Floyd – The owner is considering a major remodel for this building and will seek to attract new tenants for the newly vacated space. A distillery is seeking 3,000 square feet of space in this building. Tenant finish plans are being rendered and a lease is pending. A second distillery is seeking space in this building. The architect for this project was also involved in Mickey Zeppelin’s Taxi Development. The distillery (Devils Head Distillery) has signed a lease for 3,000 square feet of space. The Distillery was recently approved as a conditional use and we anticipate tenant finish permits to be submitted shortly.

- 2950 South Broadway – Tocabe American Indian Restaurant considering space at this location. This would be their second Denver-metro location. Staff met with the ownership and discussed potential sites for this innovative Native American eatery. The owners are no longer considering 2950 South Broadway due to limited visibility, but are open to considering other viable site options. Staff has provided 2 alternate sites for consideration by this restaurateur.

- Catholic Store – Staff met with the owner of the building. The property is currently fully leased with the new tenant “Vapes.” While a business license has not been submitted we understand that this business will sell vapor cigarettes.

- Odd Fellows building – Staff has contacted the owner of this property to discuss historic preservation tax credits and other programs that might be of interest to support investment and building revitalization. The building owner indicated that a new tenant has taken the vacant ground floor retail space – The Blue Chair.

- 3999 South Broadway (formerly Jasmine Asian Cuisine) is under contract. The investor is seeking tenants and is meeting with viable restaurants. Staff has provided information on this new listing to Tocabe. This property sold to an investor that will lease restaurant space to a wine and tapas bar. The property owner will seek a tenant for the front portion of the building (formerly Molly’s Closet). A wine and tapas bar will open in the space formerly occupied by Jasmine Restaurant. Staff is talking to the property owner about putting a small gallery in the space vacated by Molly’s Closet.

- 750 West Hampden (Omni Development). Staff met with the owner of this property about tenant or redevelopment ideas. The potential for a Small Business Investment Center (tenant) to lease space is still viable. This user would be the first SBIC in Colorado and provide financing options to businesses. Staff also responded to a business prospect from the State’s Office of Economic Development and International Trade for a call center user seeking 50,000 square feet of space. The property owner is interested in a tenant retention / expansion initiative to retain Karcher, a tenant that currently occupies 25,000 s.f. of office and has 130 employees. This investment will involve the expansion into 150,000 square feet of space. The tenant is looking outside Englewood, but efforts by the City and property owner are being undertaken to retain this business.

- 501 West Hampden (formerly Bank of the West) is under new ownership. The project involves a bank and one or two tenant spaces that would be ideal for a quick serve restaurant – patio space is available.
- CityCenter Englewood tenants. A short term tenant has leased space on the north plaza, near City Center Communities. This tenant will translate texts into audio books for the disabled. One space remains for the ground floor commercial. The former Sports Authority retail space will be occupied by Harbor Freight and open at the end of July. The tenant is expected to be a substantial sales tax generator. There is an additional 9,500 s.f. of space available in the building and Weingarten is seeking viable tenants for this location. A sandwich shop is looking to expand into the vacant Quizno’s space.

Staff Presentation

Chris Neubecker, Senior Planner, was sworn in. Mr. Neubecker reviewed the history of the municipal code that allows breweries, distilleries and wineries. The zoning for the property is MU-B-2. The recently revised code allows this use as a use by right only in the I-1 and I-2 zones. It is a Conditional Use in the MU-B-1, MU-B-2 and M2 zone districts. The case was reviewed by the Development Review Team and there were no negative findings. The project is still subject to review by the Building and Fire Departments. The traffic division commented that there may be issues with parking, but there is no room to add parking and any use of this property will impact parking in the area.

This Conditional Use meets the standards set forth in 16-5-2C of the Municipal Code regarding breweries, distilleries and wineries and vintner’s restaurants.

Applicant Presentation

Ryan White, Owner, Devil’s Head Distillery, 3375 West Aksarben Avenue, was sworn in. Mr. White described the proposed business. His intention is to manufacture artisanal liquor and sell to bars, restaurants and retailers. In addition, he plans to have a tasting room adjacent to his manufacturing facility that will be upscale in design. The benefit to the City of Englewood will be the sales taxes collected from the onsite sale of spirits and merchandise. It will contribute to the overall health of the city by bringing in a new business and new employment opportunities as well as contributing to the culture of the City.

Discussion

Mr. Bleile asked if Mr. White is ready to start the business, Mr. White replied that he has obtained a federal permit which allows him to distill alcohol fuel in order to learn the craft of distilling. He has developed the recipes he will use in his commercial operation.

Mr. Brick asked about the status of his liquor license and Mr. White responded that all applicable permits are in progress.

Mr. Bleile commented that Mr. White was influential in changing the opinion of distilling in Englewood as he had appeared before the Commission two years ago to introduce the project.
Ms. Townley asked what the maximum number of people would be in his establishment. He responded that based on the square footage, it would be approximately 67. He does not anticipate that actual occupancy will reach the maximum as his seating arrangement is not high density.

Mr. Bleile asked if he would be creating a restaurant as well. Mr. White replied that Federal law prohibits a restaurant attached to a distillery.

Mr. King asked Mr. White if he will be selling wholesale initially. Mr. White replied that his plan is to sell to liquor stores, bars and restaurants as well as serving cocktails at the distillery tasting room.

Public Comment

No members of the public were present to testify.

Bleile moved; Knoth seconded: TO CLOSE THE PUBLIC HEARING FOR CASE #USE2014-009 CONDITIONAL USE FOR DEVIL’S HEAD DISTILLERY, 3296 SOUTH ACOMA STREET

AYES: Bleile, Brick, Freemire, King, Knoth, Roth, Townley

ABSENT: Fish, Kinton

Motion passes.

Bleile moved; Knoth seconded: TO APPROVE #USE2014-009 CONDITIONAL USE FOR DEVIL’S HEAD DISTILLERY, 3296 SOUTH ACOMA STREET

Mr. Roth commented that the project meets several points of the Comprehensive Plan. Because other businesses in the downtown area were exempted from the parking regulations, this project will not cause any issues and is a good fit and is something new.

Mr. Bleile added that the BOB (Brew on Broadway) was also a different kind of business for the downtown area and has been successful.

Ms. Townley stated that the proposed business supports the Comprehensive Plan. She feels that more support may be needed from Public Works in terms of identifying pedestrian crosswalks and additional lighting to enhance the safety of the area.

VOTE:
AYES: Bleile, Brick, Freemire, King, Knoth, Roth, Townley
NAYS: None
ABSTAIN: None
ABSENT: Fish, Kinton

Motion passes.

IV. PUBLIC FORUM

No members of the public were present.

V. ATTORNEY'S CHOICE

Assistant City Attorney Reid did not have any comments for the Commission. She did ask the Commissioners to expand on their Findings of Fact during a Public Hearing for a Conditional Use.

VI. STAFF'S CHOICE

The next scheduled meeting is August 5, 2014. There are no cases pending at this time and Staff is busy with proposals for the Comprehensive Plan, Next Steps Study and the Walk and Wheel Grant. It was the consensus of the Commission that the August 5, 2014 meeting will be cancelled.

VII. COMMISSIONER'S CHOICE

Mr. Roth commented that live/work arrangements are not allowed in the MUB-2 district. This may be a topic that the Commission should consider addressing in the future.

Director White commented on topics that are being considered for future discussion specifically bulk plane regulations and accessory dwelling units.

Mr. Freemire asked for the names of the firms presenting proposals for the Comprehensive Plan update. They are the Orion Group, Logan Simpson Consultants and Clarion Associates.

II. ACE BUSINESS

Mr. Hollingsworth reviewed the history of ACE and the objectives set by City Council for the benefit of the new members.

Chair Knoth stated that ACE is a business advisory group and his goals going forward are 1) advise on issues facing City Council now and 2) bring new issues to City Council for them to consider. When bringing issues to City Council, the ideas need to be fully explored including a plan for implementation.

Councilman Jefferson stated that City Council is re-evaluating ACE to determine if the contributions from ACE are substantial enough to continue supporting the group. He believes that the group has value and could contribute a great deal to helping City Council with the vision for South Broadway from Hampden to Belleview. He cited examples of the effectiveness of the Economic Development policies and programs that the City has available (Sprouts signalized intersection and King Soopers at Belleview tax abatements).

Chair Knoth asked the members if they were interested in continuing to work on South Broadway or if there was another project that they were interested in pursuing. He suggested that projects could be very small in scope or longer term large projects.

Councilman Jefferson believes that should the group develop a plan for South Broadway improvements, the funding may be available. Ms. Vigliano asked what the strategy is for attracting new businesses. Councilman Jefferson responded that Mike Flaherty, Deputy City Manager, and Darren Hollingsworth are in touch with business and landowners in Englewood and are able to gather information from them. Englewood’s vacancy rates are comparatively lower than the surrounding area. Approximately 60% of Englewood’s income is generated through sales taxes resulting in lower property taxes. Retaining existing businesses and attracting new businesses is important to sustain the local economy. Mr. Knoth remarked that per capita, Englewood collects the most sales tax revenue of the cities in the metro area.

Mr. Michels asked about the composition of business on the South Broadway Corridor. He remarked on possibilities of marketing the existing businesses. Creating a “mini-tech center” would attract a diverse group of businesses.

Councilman Jefferson reviewed the current programs available for businesses in the City including the Catalyst program and the Enterprise Zone.

Ms. Vigliano asked if Englewood’s zoning affects the type of development in Englewood with regards to the arts community. Councilman Jefferson remarked that welcoming artists and exploring the live/work options available in Englewood. It would be a marketing effort to attract that community to the area. It is a viable economic driver for the City.

Attracting a hotel to Englewood is a priority. Mr. Miller suggested that a survey of businesses would be helpful to gather information about the business climate in the City.

Mr. Flaherty addressed the board with information regarding his background with the City and the healthy economy in Englewood that is based on a diverse group of industry and business with the largest employers in the medical industry. He reviewed the current residential development that is taking place in Englewood at Kent Place and Alta Vista. He asked the members to come to the next meeting prepared with three ideas for the City.
Mr. Sedbrook expressed that he feels that ACE should strive to work with all businesses in Englewood and seek those that would like the assistance the group could provide. He stated that an action plan is necessary to accomplish whatever goal they choose to focus on.

Councilman Jefferson urged the group to tackle one project in the next 6 months.
