As we are embarking on a search for Englewood’s new city manager, I am often asked about Englewood’s form of government as compared to other cities.

Englewood’s home rule charter resembles 60% of the nation’s cities and towns in that we utilize a council-manager form of governance. We hire a city manager as the paid professional, much like a CEO, who “heads the administrative branch of the city government”. The city manager provides oversight for all city functions, bringing a wealth of experience, vision, and innovation to lead the city under Council’s direction.

In turn, seven council members are elected to represent Englewood’s four districts and the city at large. Every two years, Council chooses a mayor to preside over meetings. The mayor has no veto power nor special powers beyond ceremonial purposes and authenticates legal documents by signature as approved by Council. A mayor pro tem is also chosen by Council and fills mayoral duties when the mayor is unavailable. This council-manager system allows regular citizens from all walks of life and livelihoods to effectively represent Englewood’s residents by remaining actively involved in the community through work and social connections. In this way, the elected representatives remain political servants to the City without becoming professional politicians. The city is managed on a day-to-day basis by a professional city manager, but led by the City Council.

Englewood is at an important historic moment of hiring our next city manager. Since the resignation of City Manager Eric Keck in October, council appointed Dorothy Hargrove, director of our libraries, parks and recreation, to serve as interim city manager. Ms. Hargrove has proven herself as a strong and compassionate leader, with essential management skills for people and details. I am thankful for her willingness to step into this role, giving us stability as we search for our next city manager.

By the time you read this, Council will have chosen a search firm that has a strong record in helping cities find their next city manager. We will work with the firm to develop a clear timeline and process for hiring, prioritize criteria for the best candidates, create interview questions and public opportunities with candidates, and execute the hiring efficiently and effectively. The process could take us into May 2019, yet we are hoping it may be quicker. Please keep informed and engaged through our city website and via Council Members.

May 2019 be a great year for all in Englewood!
Thank you for the opportunity to serve Englewood as your Interim City Manager. City Council asked me to step into this role in November and I hope to hand the reins to a permanent City Manager in the spring. I am confident that qualified candidates from all over the country will consider this a tempting professional opportunity since Englewood has such positive momentum and remains a wonderful place to live, work and raise a family. I look forward to working closely with a new city manager to make the transition in leadership as smooth as possible.

Rest assured, however, that the business of the City is not standing still in the meantime. The department directors and I are working closely with City Council to keep major projects moving forward. These include completion of our new Police Headquarters building, analysis of possible infrastructure improvements, redevelopment opportunities for the City Center area, plans for a renovation of the entry at the Englewood Recreation Center, a new playground for Jason Park, and a variety of behind-the-scenes projects such as internet security and improvements in budgeting.

We are excited about all that the new year will bring and know that we are up to both the challenges and fresh opportunities that make Englewood such a vibrant city.

Kind regards,

Dorothy Hargrove,
Interim City Manager

ENGLEWOOD’S DIY HOME BUILDING BOOM

Just like your IKEA shelving, many Englewood homes were originally delivered in a boxcar full of numbered planks and pre-cut doors and windows, along with assembly instructions.

Instead of ordering online, most of these prefab homes were ordered out of Sears and Montgomery Ward catalogs, where homebuyers could choose between more than 400 designs, ranging in cost from $400 to $3,000. Times have certainly changed.

This may sound crazy in today’s booming housing market, but these prefab homes were the most common homebuilding method for Englewood’s earliest residents until after World War II. In a remote farming community with more cows than home builders, ordering a home out of a catalog was the best option available.

The designs may have been cookie-cutter, but the options varied widely. Buyers could choose between bungalows and arts and crafts homes, one or two stories, wood or brick, the number of bedrooms, porch style, etc. As your family grew, you could order additions, and if you purchased after 1916, you had the added option of an indoor bathroom - how luxurious!

Many enlisted the help of a local carpenter or builder - like Englewood City Councilman Norman H. McLellan or Thomas Foley - to put their home together.

Unfortunately many of these historical homes, which have now stood for more than one hundred years, are at risk of being demolished. The Englewood Historic Preservation Society would like to help preserve these homes and neighborhoods.

To find out more, call us at 303-242-3257.
Great partnerships are key to any healthy organization, and your City government is no exception. The City of Englewood is proud to partner with many amazing organizations that work together to serve our residents and visitors.

SMALL BUSINESS SUPPORT
Englewood is an avid supporter of small business. These partners provide additional resources, including trainings and workshops, business consulting, lending capacity and networking opportunities. City partners include:
- Greater Englewood Chamber of Commerce
- Aurora South Metro Small Business Development Center
- Manufacturers Edge
- Mi Casa Resource Center

THE ARTISTIC COMMUNITY
The Economic Development team is focusing on arts-related businesses in 2019 by planning a networking event for artists and art-related entrepreneurs, as well as a business after hours event. This partnership between the Museum of Outdoor Arts, Black Cube and the City was created to help grow the artist community in Englewood and attract new entrepreneurs in the art field.

EMERGENCY RELIEF AND DISASTER PREPAREDNESS
The City works closely with the Red Cross on many things that benefit the community. One example is the annual smoke detector campaign, a community education project to help families prevent, prepare for, respond to and recover from home fires.

TRANSPORTATION FUNDING AND COLLABORATION
The City continues to partner with the Colorado Department of Transportation on traffic safety. CDOT has offered the City grants for impaired driving and seat belt education and enforcement.

Additionally, the City works with the Regional Transportation District (RTD) to operate the Englewood Trolley - the free shuttle service that connects RTD’s Englewood Station at City Center with the Hospital District, providing important connectivity to Downtown Englewood. The Community Development Department is currently in conversations with RTD to extend the Trolley’s operating schedule on weekends and to potentially add weekend hours.

HEALTHCARE PARTNERSHIPS
The Community Development Department is always in conversation with Swedish Medical Center and Craig Hospital about opportunities to collaborate. The continued growth of both hospitals has made it a new priority to meet on a more regular basis. Topics to be addressed include traffic, parking and streetscape collaborations, as well as joint community outreach initiatives.

COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS
Our City harnesses the power of volunteers for many community services and events, including Citizens Police Academy, Day of Service, Englewood Block Party and 4th of July.

RECREATION OPPORTUNITIES
Englewood Parks, Recreation and Library are joining forces with Any and All Bikes, Generation Wild, Great Outdoors Colorado and Colorado Parks and Wildlife to offer Get Your Tail on a Trail, a three-part series dedicated to recreation. See page 17 for details.

FLOOD CONTROL
The Public Works Department is working with the Urban Drainage and Flood Control District to make improvements to Big Dry Creek that will increase the stability of the channel and remove excess sediment.

EDUCATIONAL COLLABORATION
The City works closely with Englewood Public Schools to provide summer athletic programs and activities for children as well as to share athletic facilities. The Englewood Library also partners with the school district to promote and support the summer reading program and collaborate on information databases for students.

PARKS AND SHELTER IMPROVEMENTS
Renovation of the Rotolo Park shelter and Belleview Park improvements (including Belleview Shelter #3) were both funded with the help of the Open Space Fund from Arapahoe County Open Spaces.

COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECTS
The Malley Center partners with Integrated Family Community Services every holiday season to serve Englewood’s low-income seniors with a giving tree and gift distribution.

How community partnerships directly – and positively – impact the lives of residents and visitors to Englewood
MEET YOUR NEIGHBORS

GENERATIONS OF MEMORIES

Englewood has always been a part of Amber Griego’s life. She grew up in Denver and fondly remembers trips to Cinderella City (now the Civic Center) with her dad, as well as frequenting the Englewood library and local restaurants. Now an Englewood resident, Amber has three young children of her own, and takes full advantage of living in a city with so much to offer them. Beyond the great schools, healthcare options and community, she and her family engage with many city services and functions. “My favorite thing about Englewood is that there are so many things to participate in, not only for adults, but also for our kids,” she said. “It’s really a family-based city.”

She’s still a regular at the Englewood Library, where she and her kids are well known by the staff. They love utilizing the many activities and programs offered. When the weather is nice, you can often find them at one of the many Englewood parks and playgrounds. They especially like visiting Belleview Park and the Belleview Farm and Train in the summertime, where the kids enjoy the petting zoo and riding around the park. Amber stays active at the rec center, where she takes advantage of the track and pool—a very affordable gym alternative. There’s always an Englewood event to look forward to, like the Halloween Carnival, Block Party and the Englewood Holiday Express. Last year, she got to see her children sing in the choir for the City tree lighting. And though much has changed as the City has grown, many of her favorite restaurants like El Tepehuan are still right here in Englewood, where her own kids can get a taste of her childhood.

The City has several funds that you can also think of as separate checking accounts. Although certainly not a complete explanation of every fund, here are a few highlights.

Capital Project Funds
Money for these funds comes from a portion of the General Fund, some building and vehicle use taxes and a share of the Arapahoe County Road and Bridge Mill Levy. Over the last five years, these funds have averaged about $6 million each year. Capital projects include major improvements in buildings, parks, streets and information technology.

Enterprise Funds
These funds pay for specific investments and services that are not funded by taxes but by user fees paid by residents and nonresidents who use the service. Enterprise funds are part of the overall budget, but their revenue and expenses are, by law, accounted for in their own “bucket.” These funds can, and do, build up savings accounts of their own. If these funds need to borrow money for major repairs or improvements, the debt is paid back by user fees.

In Englewood, this includes the following:

- Water Fund – This fund pays for our clean drinking water. The Allen Water Treatment Plant processes clean water every day and delivers it safely to your home through the distribution system pipes.
- Sewer Fund – This fund pays for those collection system pipes that take sewage safely away from homes and businesses.
- Storm Water Drainage Fund – This fund pays for the collection system that drains water away from our City spaces.
- Golf Fund – The fees paid by golfers support the Broken Tee Golf Course.

Special Revenue Funds
The City receives some revenue from funds that pay for specific programs or activities. The Colorado Lottery, for example, sends a percentage of the income from lottery sales to cities across the state to support recreation and outdoor activities. Englewood receives a share of the Arapahoe County Open Space sales tax that is used to cover certain expenses for parks and open spaces.

General Fund
This fund pays for most City services including your police department, fire and emergency medical services, the recreation centers, street maintenance and parks, to name just a few. Money comes in from sales tax (60%) and property tax (8%) and a variety of other sources including franchise fees, recreation fees, licenses and permits (32%). About 17% of this fund is required to be held in reserve, similar to a savings account, for unexpected expenses or emergencies.

The City Budget: A blueprint for providing services
The City of Englewood's budget is a little more complicated than your own household budget, but the basic principles are pretty much the same: spend carefully, save what you can and borrow when necessary for big projects.

Members of Council select the Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem from among their members. The Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem serve in that capacity for a two-year term.

Englewood City Council candidate information packets are available on the City’s website at Englewoodco.gov/2019Election. Englewood residents interested in running may also set up an appointment with the City Clerk’s office to discuss the process.

Jason Park’s Future Looks Playful

Major renovations will turn the park into a playground destination for all ages

Jason Park is set to undergo a major redesign that will transform it into a destination for residents and visitors alike. The project – which was informed by community feedback and funded by a grant awarded to the City of Englewood – will include exciting new playground equipment, a revamped picnic area, access to outdoor education and recreation opportunities and an enhanced landscape. Construction is scheduled to begin in spring of 2019 and wrap up in the fall.

The new playground equipment will include components for two play areas: one designed for children ages 2-5, the other for 5-12 year olds. Both areas will include elements that promote various activities like climbing, sliding and balancing.

Three types of swings will be constructed, including a social swing, tot bucket swings and belt swings. There will also be ropes and bars, a balance line and a designated digging play area. The pea gravel playground surface will be replaced with engineered wood fiber, a safe and cost-effective surface material that meets accessibility guidelines.

The majority of the equipment will be ADA accessible and include a transfer station and ramp. More than 30 percent of the equipment will be built from recycled materials, including elements from the old playground that will be repurposed and revamped.

The landscape improvements will include the planting of new shade and ornamental trees, along with replacing the sod grass. The excavated soil will be used to create new berms, providing a natural enclosure to the area for safety and viewing.

Picnic tables, benches, shaded areas and ADA accessible trails will provide a common area for neighbors of all ages to gather, socialize, recreate and play.

These improvements are all being made with funding from a grant awarded by Arapahoe County Open Spaces and the Board of County Commissioners in August of 2018. When completed, Jason Park will meet the City’s goals to provide recreation and leisure opportunities within walking distance and create community spaces for gathering.

Memory Café

A Space for Community and Connection

Beginning this February, the Library will be hosting six Memory Café events once every other month for individuals experiencing memory loss and their caregivers to participate in fun activities and engaging experiences while connecting with others in a welcoming environment.

Each event will feature a new activity that aims to facilitate social connection, create positive memories and reminisce about times gone by. Some examples include a visit to the Museum of Outdoor Art in the Civic Center, a watercolor class and indoor croquet.

Individuals encouraged to attend may have Alzheimer’s disease, any type of the dementia or other brain disorders. It is also helpful for people with all forms of mild cognitive impairment. While the Memory Café events are beneficial to those afflicted, it is also valuable for their caregivers as well. It is not respite care or a place to “drop off” your loved one for the afternoon. It is a way to enjoy activities with them as a break from the normal routine by creating positive memories and opportunities to make connections with others in a similar situation. At the Memory Café, you can just be yourself – without worrying about remembering or forgetting.

For adults. No registration required. Second Monday of every other month starting in February at 2:00 pm. Location: Englewood Public Library, Anderson Room.

WHEN IS “AWAY”? The Story of Your Trash

Have you ever wondered where your trash goes? If you live in the Denver metro area, chances are it goes to the Denver Arapahoe Disposal Site (DADS) landfill, southeast of Buckley Air Force Base. DADS is one of the nation’s largest landfills with a footprint of over 2,300 acres.

The most popular solution to disposing of our waste is by burying it. In fact, the Colorado Department of Health and Environment estimates $265 million worth of resources like glass, cartons, cardboard, paper and metals are buried every year in Colorado! Trash collection data in Colorado only dates back 30 years, so we have no way of knowing how much trash was produced and buried in Colorado beyond that.

Instead of burying resources, it’s best to recycle or compost them. Recycling creates nine times more jobs per ton of waste compared to landfill disposal. When organic material such as food waste, yard waste and paper products decompose without oxygen, methane gas (84 times stronger than CO₂) is produced and emitted into the atmosphere.

The average Coloradoan produces 10 pounds of trash per day. Help reduce your impact on the environment by refusing unnecessary waste such as Styrofoam to-go containers or disposable plastic ware and reuse instead by bringing your own mug or bag (often for a discount!) before recycling, composting and utilizing your local landfill.

WHO LET THE DOGS OUT?

We know that your pet is a part of the family. That’s why we strive to make Englewood a safe and healthy place for residents – whether you have two legs, or four. Regardless of where you live in the City, roaming cats and dogs create a potentially harmful environment for everyone.

What Happens When Your Wandering Pet is Picked Up? It is unlawful in Englewood to allow your dog or cat to roam free. When a pet is found running at large and the identity of the owner can be identified, the pet owner is cited and may be fined. Unknown pets will be impounded and taken to the Humane Society of the South Platte Valley. Pets not claimed by their owner within six business days are at risk of being removed from the City.

Keep Your Pets Safe
Englewood has multiple areas designated for pets to enjoy safely. There are five off-leash parks in the City that provide space for your pet to run and explore, including Centennial Park, Duncan Park, Jason Park, Northwest Greenbelt and the Englewood Canine Corral. The Canine Corral is a half-acre dedicated off-leash dog park completely fenced and equipped with benches, pet stations and other amenities. As always, be sure to check posted signs when entering to understand park regulations and do what you can to help others identify your pet (microchip, collar with identification or register them on the Nextdoor Pet Directory).
