This issue of the Englewood Citizen magazine contains important City information and responses to assist businesses and residents in this very difficult time with COVID-19. Mayor Pro Tem Sierra and Council Member Russell’s columns highlight the bright spots we are seeing in our community as we come together to care for one another. Thank you for what you are doing.

In the midst of this pandemic, we also have important infrastructure issues Council has been addressing. In an effort to be open and transparent about these discussions, I will try my best to inform you here, as we simultaneously navigate a ‘new normal’ with the pandemic.

During the 2020 budget discussions in 2019, City staff identified critical funding needs for the City’s three major utilities: Water, Sewer and Stormwater. Our recent assessment of these utilities finds they are underfunded, and necessary maintenance and replacement has been neglected.

The City has developed a financial model based on current available funds, a 5-year capital improvement program plan, targeted fund reserve dollar amounts, and debt servicing financial assumptions. The residential and commercial stormwater rate increases recommended to, and approved by, Council will be implemented gradually from 2020 through 2024. These will fully fund the utility’s current annual maintenance, operations and capital expenses, while establishing an adequate reserve fund for our storm drainage needs.

The study’s findings were conclusive: since 2002, the City has lagged in raising stormwater fees and has continuously fallen behind in funding ongoing maintenance, operations and capital needs as well as underfunded adequate reserves. You can view the infographic on pages 6-9 to gain more detailed knowledge of rate comparisons.

The initial projects and programs identified in the study will increase capacity of the storm sewer in the following areas:

- Oxford Avenue, from Windermere Street to Navajo Street, east to the South Platte River;
- Navajo Street and east along Radcliff Avenue to Rotolo Park;
- Tufts Avenue, west of Broadway, and north along Cherokee Street to the greenway;
- Hampden Avenue from Clarkson Street to Lincoln Street.

A new maintenance program will include cleaning the existing storm sewer to remove debris and sediment; televising the existing storm sewer to determine its condition; installing rain gauges in various locations around the City; repairing or rehabilitating the existing storm sewer, as needed; and collecting GIS data.

The five-year financial plan, increasing revenues from approximately $1 million in 2020 to $3.5 million in 2024, supports debt services on approximately $30 million for the projects above.

While Council never wants to raise rates for our residents and businesses, our aging—and in some cases failing—infrastructure must remain a top priority for the City of Englewood in the years ahead. We hope that the gradual increase over time will ensure that our infrastructure can perform at a standard we all expect.

Again, thank you for all you are doing to make our community safer and healthier in the months ahead. Be well.

The suddenness of the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted every household, every business, and everyone’s lives. While this most certainly has had a negative impact on all of us, it has been very encouraging to see the entire community mobilize quickly to help one another.

We’ve seen many examples of the community taking steps to help our residents such as Change the Trend providing grocery delivery for our elderly or those with heightened risk, Englewood Schools delivering Chromebooks to students for the start of remote learning and also providing a daily lunch/breakfast option for community members. It’s also planning to celebrate the graduating class of 2020 by hosting a responsible, social-distanced parade in the coming months. The City has looked to connect people virtually by setting up weekly community sharing circles and also partnering residents with one another through our phone buddy program to provide some social interaction while we’re limited by social distancing guidelines.

The impact to businesses has been equally as swift with most having to shut their doors and reduce staff. With expenses still coming due, the City quickly repurposed an existing business grant to the COVID-19 Small Business Support and Recovery Grant, providing $2,000 to over 100 Englewood small businesses. The Englewood Chamber of Commerce, rapidly mobilized as well, holding regularly scheduled calls with local businesses and providing feedback to staff while also compiling lists of Englewood small businesses that remain open as part of the #TimeForTakeout campaign.

It is in unprecedented times like these we see the true nature of the City of Englewood, one of helping, compassion and forward thinking. It is inspiring to see Englewood citizens fall back on the true nature of who we are as a City. We come together and hold one another strong.

Othoniel Sierra, Mayor Pro Tem, District 1

This is not the first time Englewood has faced difficulties. Over the years, there have been many situations that threatened to overwhelm and defeat us. I am reminded of the Platte River flood in the early 60s, the oil crisis in the 70s, a couple of recessions, the swine flu and most recently the flash flood of 2018. In all of these situations, I saw neighbors coming together to help each other in their times of distress!

What we are facing right now seems to be more daunting than all these past events, but the solution is the same. I have already seen it happening in our neighborhoods, at the grocery store and waiting in line for takeout – people helping people. First responders and businesses that adapted to help us. You are all doing an amazing job!

Today the sun came up, the spring flowers are blooming, the birds are singing and people are ready to get their lives back to normal. Businesses are preparing to reopen following strict guidelines to keep us all safe. It has been a difficult time for everyone. We have put our lives and our livelihoods on hold not knowing the outcome. We need to continue helping each other and together we will get through this difficult time!

God Bless You All! Together We Will Make a Difference!

Rita Russell, Council Member, At Large

These past couple of months have been a very harrowing time for us. It has been a time of unprecedented lockdown marked by a loss of loved ones, increased unemployment, business closures and a general feeling of uncertainty. Since the day this all began, our lives have changed dramatically. We have voluntarily stayed at home to protect others and ourselves from the spread of this pandemic. We can get through this together!

A ROADMAP FOR THE FUTURE

Creating a Sense of Place

The City of Englewood is bustling with activity. We have unique restaurants and businesses, world-class healthcare, a robust transportation network, a thriving arts community and so much more.

However, one of the City’s challenges is to create a unique “sense of place” that differentiates us from other communities. To many, it is unclear when you’ve entered or exited Englewood’s city limits. The Central Business District includes Civic Center, South Broadway and Old Hampden, which are unique places within the community and have the potential to be a gathering place for residents and an attraction for those in the surrounding Denver metropolitan area. But, these areas lack a strong identity.

Over the next few months, the City will be working with a local steering committee to develop a Wayfinding and Placemaking Master Plan.

That Master Plan is intended to provide the City with ideas and concepts that reinforce the City’s identity. This includes recommendations for public art installations; lighting; landscaping; and wayfinding signage to help navigate and identify Englewood. This project includes an opportunity for residents and businesses to provide their feedback regarding design preferences. Visit englewoodco.gov to learn more and follow along with our progress.

The goal of the City of Englewood’s Neighborhood Resource Program is to create a sense of belonging for residents in Englewood. We want to encourage you to get to know your neighbors. Cut out the block map, write down the names of the eight neighbors that live around you, and display it on your refrigerator. The map will help you learn your neighbor’s names and get to know them better. The Neighborhood Resources Program is working hard to continue to build and grow the program with resources for residents to access, if you are interested in planning a social gathering for your neighborhood and becoming a neighborhood group leader, please fill out the form on englewoodco.gov/neighborhoods.
Englewood’s Plan for Water, Sewer and Stormwater Infrastructure

Our infrastructure components must be continuously improved to ensure the city’s sewer, water, and storm runoff systems are properly functioning to serve our community and keep our residents safe. Many elements of our systems are more than 90 years old, well beyond their recommended lifespan, and are in urgent need of replacement. Englewood has over 300 miles of water, sewer or stormwater pipes, many of which must be repaired or replaced over the next 15 years. And, both treatment plants require significant mechanical improvements.

Flow it Forward is Englewood’s ongoing plan to replace our outdated systems and properly maintain them in the future.

Englewood’s water is clean, but older pipes from the source to your home can cause poor taste and discoloration. Replacing these lines will improve drinking water quality.

The stormwater system prevents flooding and sink holes by carrying water from rainstorms away from land, streets and parking lots and into the South Platte River. Many of the pipes that carry this water are nearly 65 years old and are too small for the volume of water.

The South Platte Wastewater Plant treats our wastewater and returns it to nature. Englewood residents keep our city thriving by Flowing It Forward. Repairing and upgrading our infrastructure will bring these benefits to our community: Stormwater system improvements will decrease flooding and reduce sinkholes. Sewer system improvements will decrease sewer backups, prevent sewer line collapses and lower maintenance costs. Water system updates will improve water quality, reduce the number of lead service lines, prevent water line failures and eliminate wasteful leaks.

Englewood estimates about $263 Million to complete all infrastructure improvements.

- $35 Million for storm drainage over the next five years
- $168 Million for drinking water repairs over the next 15 years
- $60 Million for sewer repairs over the next 15 years

Englewood residents keep our city thriving by Flowing It Forward.

Deferring on the final needs for the water and sewer infrastructure repairs and replacements (similar to investments underway currently for stormwater), rates will need to increase accordingly beginning in 2021.

Average Monthly Water & Sewer Rates for Other Cities

- Englewood: $133.90
- Arvada: $103.98
- Boulder: $82.52
- Denver: $82.13
- Lakewood: $84.76
- Aurora: $70.57
- Colorado Springs: $57.49

*Estimated monthly residential total rate comparison at 6Kgal for water and wastewater for fiscal year 2020. Rates do not include stormwater.
Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, the City of Englewood and the Englewood community have been incredibly responsive, acting quickly to prioritize the safety of residents, the needs of local businesses, and launching new programs to support the community in new ways.

Englewood took the threat of the pandemic seriously from the beginning. Arapahoe County, working in unison with the City, activated its Emergency Operations Center (EOC) to Level 3 on February 27. The next day, communications staff partnered with the Joint Information Center to ensure clear, consistent and timely information was delivered to residents throughout the County.

City Manager Shawn Lewis acted quickly to declare a local disaster emergency on March 13, initiating more local funding and support from state and federal resources. On March 17, the EOC elevated its response to Level 1, with full activation and additional staff. Just days later, all City facilities were closed, and City Council moved to act on an emergency on March 13, initiating more local funding and support from state and federal resources. In partnership with The Greater Englewood Chamber of Commerce, the Time-for-Takeout campaign was launched in mid-March. This was a joint effort to support local restaurants and encourage residents to order food and beverages. The take-away service is what has saved many restaurants from having to shut down entirely during the duration of the pandemic.

While urging residents to stay home, the City also launched its Small Business Support and Recovery Grant. When initially launched, 100 Englewood businesses affected by the pandemic each received $2,000 grants within three weeks. Vanee Gupta, owner of Digital Medial innovations, used his grant to pay the healthcare premiums of his workers. “My wife has a business in another city,” said Gupta. “And I must say that I basically made her jealous when I talk about all of the resources Englewood has been providing us.”

“I feel like there’s a big support for small businesses, especially in Englewood,” added Frame de Art’s Brian Hart. “I’m keeping my head up, hoping we can get through this, and then I think we have a great future,” he continued. City Council allocated an additional $100,000 that has funded an additional 50 businesses.

The Small Business Support and Recovery Grant was quickly followed by the Rent Assistance Program, which launched April 7 to protect residents from evictions. The Program is available to Englewood residents with a household income of 300% of the Federal Poverty Level or less. For information about the program, or to apply, visit englewoodco.gov/recovery.

Throughout the shelter-in-place order, Englewood worked to offer virtual programs to keep residents healthy and connected. The Englewood Virtual Recreation Center launched in April, offering resources for staying active. The Neighborhood Resources Program quickly set up initiatives to allow residents to stay connected and foster community while staying at home. The Virtual Community Sharing Circle has at least 10 attendees each Friday. For more information, visit englewoodco.gov/neighborhoods.

The community has a lot to be proud of when it comes to our collective response to this global disaster. The City reopened with minimal staffing levels on May 4 and reopened to the public on May 11, in accordance with state guidelines. If you can do business with the City virtually, please continue to do so. We will continue to do everything in our power to keep residents safe and well informed. Since opening its doors on Dec. 12 last year, the space has regularly been bustling with visitors. Gastics intentionally designed the space to be accessible, a feature that brings in patients from Craig Hospital and their family and friends.

In addition to shopping and dining, Gastics offers classes as well as unique food experiences, like their Sunday Supper—a family-style meal that brings people together around food. He also has plans to start a farmer’s market.

You would never have recognized the Englewood Public Library when it first opened in 1920. From its early beginnings as a single, quiet room to a bustling, super-connected community hub and multicultural gathering space, it consistently continues to adapt to the needs of Englewood residents.

Once upon a time, a girl dreamed of a library
Inspired by her young daughter, an Englewood mother contributed the girl’s life savings—$1.50—toward the cost of a future library. It was the first recorded donation to the cause.

Several years later, in May of 1920, a small room was rented in a former mortuary on Broadway for only $35 a month. The library officially opened June 1, 1920. The new service was well-received and by May of 1921, the Library had collected 2,844 donated books that residents with a library card could check out.

Much more than a library
The Englewood Public Library, located on the first floor of the Civic Center, utilizes 35,000 sq. ft. and is a far cry from the quiet study room it once was.

Some of the most popular free offerings for adults include ELL, genealogy and computer classes—including advanced Word and Excel—held in the computer lab.

In addition to classes, the Library fosters local art and food culture by featuring a rotating art exhibit and hosting a reception where visitors can meet the artist as well as sample local cuisine from an Englewood restaurant.

The Library encourages and promotes literacy, even to the City’s youngest residents, through storytimes, after-school programs, summer reading and special events for tweens and teens. The monthly “messy process” art project allows young children to explore the process of creation without too much focus on the end product. The popular after-hours teen programs include activities like escape rooms, murder mystery dinners, and lots of opportunities to run around the Library playing capture the flag and hide and seek.

Epilogue: Here to stay
“We know we’re not going anywhere,” Adult Services Librarian Michelle Brandstetter said. “People who think that libraries are going out of business clearly haven’t been to a library in a long time.” The Library is dynamic and continues to adapt to the changing needs of its community.

“The Technical Services team loves the process of bringing our patrons new items on an ongoing basis both in print and online, while keeping materials in good order. We celebrate the enthusiasm of our Library patrons today and over the last 100 years,” stated Selene Gardner, Technical Services Librarian.

The Library already has immediate plans to expand resources offered by utilizing Prospector, a combined catalog of libraries across Colorado and Wyoming, adding access to university libraries. “By providing access to an additional 30+ million items, even after all these years we are finding ways to keep our collection fresh and interesting for our patrons,” added Megan Kennedy, Access Services Librarian.

Even with the library closed to the public during the COVID-19 situation, library staff continues to provide some services to residents by answering phone calls and emails, and in many situations directing people to coronavirus resources.

Did you know, statistics show that people visit their public library more often than they attend NFL, NHL, NBA, Nascar, and movie theaters combined?

SAVE OUR TREE CANOPY
Trees, whether on public or private property, provide the very necessities of life. They clean our air, protect our drinking water, create healthy communities and feed our soul. Currently, it’s estimated that more than 150,000 trees reside on private property in Englewood.

The City of Englewood has a special rule to address proper maintenance of trees. It states that it is the responsibility of homeowners to maintain, remove and protect trees on their property, as well as trees on the public right of way adjacent to their property. Failure to do so may result in fines and a Municipal Court summons.

Many of our trees are dead or dying and we anticipate that 22,500 ash trees currently residing on private property could die within the next five years due to an infestation of the Emerald Ash Borer (EAB). EAB is a boring beetle that is destroying ash trees and our urban tree canopy could be devastated.

DOWNTOWN PLAN AND ECONOMIC RELIEF
Downtown Plan to Include COVID-19 Economic Recovery
The Downtown Matters team continues to develop an action plan for downtown Englewood and is currently refocusing the plan to respond to unprecedented disruption caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

“This is a tremendously difficult time for businesses, and we hope that the strategies developed in the downtown action plan can help businesses bounce back quickly,” said Shawn Lewis, Englewood City Manager.

The City’s Chief Redevelopment Officer Dan Poremba has noted that Downtown Development Authorities in many communities are working to help prepare property owners and business owners to recover from coronavirus. “Working with the Steering Committee, we’ll design Englewood’s Downtown Development Authority to make recovery the top short-term priority.”

Business Emergency Relief
The City is administering support and recovery grants for small businesses up to $2,000. Qualifications and details can be found on the City website.

The Greater Englewood Chamber of Commerce is posting information about local, state and federal economic relief programs for businesses and employees. They’re also promoting restaurants offering take-out services. More information can be found at MyEnglewoodChamber.com.

The Downtown Matters action plan will also encourage workweek customers to patronize local restaurants, bars and stores, so when shops and restaurants reopen, they’ll be filled with local workers.

To learn more about the Downtown Matters initiative, visit englewoodco.gov/government/englewood-downtown-matters.
POLICE NEWS

JEREMY BITNER FALLEN OFFICER RACES GO VIRTUAL

Due to the recent coronavirus outbreak, the 8th Annual Jeremy Bitner Fallen Officer 5K/10K Run and 5K Walk has been postponed. However, there are still opportunities to participate safely and from a distance through virtual races.

The rules are simple, sign up online at bitnermemorialfund.org and complete your own 5K/10K run or 5K walk between June 1 – June 30, 2020. When you’re done, post your results to the Jeremy Bitner Fallen Officer Fund Facebook page. Participants will receive a race T-shirt after June 30. Help support families of fallen officers while staying active!

THANKS FOR FEEDING US, ENGLEWOOD!

Our local businesses and residents have really stepped up to support first responders! Over the last month, the Englewood Police Department has received donations of food from Gallo Supper Club, Steakhouse 10, Taco Truck and Breakfast Queen. Caring residents have also donated pizzas and delivered cases of Girl Scout cookies, which have really helped us keep our spirits up.

We’re all in this together and appreciate the support of everyone in the community! Thank you, from the bottom of our hearts!

Sincerely,
Englewood Police Department

HOW ARE WE DOING?

Take our survey and be heard

The City of Englewood is conducting a citizen survey to gauge satisfaction with municipal government service delivery and measure perceptions of the City. It’s important to routinely check in with the community to see how we’re doing, and your feedback will help the City better plan for our future.

By partnering with National Research Center (NRC), a third-party research firm, we are also able to compare community satisfaction with peer cities and other municipalities across the Front Range.

What will we ask?

The survey will focus on community livability and includes questions about your quality of life, local policies, demographics, rating of local government services and other important topics such as off-leash dog rules.

Who can take the survey?

A random and scientific sample of 1,700 households will receive invitations to participate by mail and their confidential responses will be weighted and analyzed. Surveys will be mailed in mid-May. If you receive a request to participate, we hope you’ll take the time to share your thoughts with us. Have questions about the survey? Contact Communications Manager Chris Harguth at charguth@englewoodco.gov.

One of Us is Lying by Karen M. McManus
Monday, 6/9 • 3:00 PM
Pay close attention and you might solve this. On Monday afternoon, five students at Bayview High walk into detention. Only four walk out. Simon — creator of the school’s notorious gossip app — is dead. Simon was planning to post juicy reveals about all four of his detention mates, which makes all four of them murder suspects. How far would you go to protect your secrets?

Sherwood by Meagan Spooner
Monday, 7/13 • 3:00 PM
Robin of Locksley is dead. Maid Marian doesn’t know how she’ll go on, but the people of Locksley town, persecuted by the Sheriff of Nottingham, need a protector. And the dreadful Guy of Gisborne, the Sheriff’s right hand, wishes to step into Robin’s shoes as Lord of Locksley and Marian’s fiancé. Who is there to stop them? Marian never meant to tread in Robin’s footsteps—never intended to stand as a beacon of hope to those awaiting his triumphant return. But with a sweep of his green cloak and the flash of her sword, Marian makes the choice to become her own hero: Robin Hood.

A Blade So Black by L.L. McKinney
Monday, 8/3 • 3:00 PM
Alice is trained to battle monstrous creatures in the dark dream realm of Wonderland. Yet even warriors have a curfew. Life in real-world Atlanta isn’t always so simple, as Alice juggles an overprotective mom, a high-maintenance best friend, and a slipping GPA. But when Alice’s mentor Hatta is poisoned, she has to find the antidote by venturing deeper into Wonderland than she’s ever gone before. And she’ll need to use everything she’s learned in both worlds to keep from losing her head... literally.

At Pirates Cove our #1 priority is your safety. Although we have lifeguards stationed throughout the park, it is important that you remain with your child at all times if they are under eight years of age or unable to swim. Skin cancer is the fastest growing form of cancer in the United States with one million new cases diagnosed each year. It’s widely known that protection from the sun’s rays could prevent about 90% of all skin cancer cases. Youth are the most at risk for overexposure and have the highest rates of disease due to overexposure before the age of 18. Look for posters inside Pirates Cove all season long for more information on swim and sun safety.
