About The NCS™

The National Community Survey™ (The NCS™) report is about the “livability” of Englewood. A livable community is a place that is not simply habitable, but that is desirable. It is not only where people do live, but where they want to live. The survey was developed by the experts from National Research Center at Polco.

Great communities are partnerships of the government, private sector, community-based organizations and residents, all geographically connected. The NCS captures residents’ opinions considering ten central facets of a community:

- Economy
- Mobility
- Community Design
- Utilities
- Safety
- Natural Environment
- Parks and Recreation
- Health and Wellness
- Education, Arts, and Culture
- Inclusivity and Engagement

The report provides the opinions of a representative sample of 365 residents of the City of Englewood collected from June 6th, 2022 to July 25th, 2022. The margin of error around any reported percentage is 5% for all respondents and the response rate for the 2022 survey was 14%. Survey results were weighted so that the demographic profile of respondents was representative of the demographic profile of adults in Englewood.

How the results are reported

For the most part, the percentages presented in the following tabs represent the “percent positive.” Most commonly, the percent positive is the combination of the top two most positive response options (i.e., excellent/good, very safe/somewhat safe, etc.). On many of the questions in the survey respondents may answer “don’t know.” The proportion of respondents giving this reply is shown in the full set of responses included in the tab “Complete data.” However, these responses have been removed from the analyses presented in most of the tabs. In other words, the tables and graphs display the responses from respondents who had an opinion about a specific item.

Comparisons to benchmarks

NRC’s database of comparative resident opinion is comprised of resident perspectives gathered in surveys from over 600 communities whose residents evaluated the same kinds of topics on The National Community Survey. The comparison evaluations are from the most recent survey completed in each community in the last five years. NRC adds the latest results quickly upon survey completion, keeping the benchmark data fresh and relevant. The communities in the database represent a wide geographic and population range. In each tab, Englewood’s results are noted as being “higher” than the benchmark, “lower” than the benchmark, or “similar” to the benchmark, meaning that the average rating given by Englewood residents is statistically similar to or different (greater or lesser) than the benchmark. Being rated as “higher” or “lower” than the benchmark means that Englewood’s average rating for a particular item was more than 10 points different than the benchmark. If a rating was “much higher” or “much lower,” then Englewood’s average rating was more than 20 points different when compared to the benchmark.

The survey was administered during the COVID-19 pandemic, a time of challenge for many local governments. While we provide comparisons to national benchmarks, it is important to note that much of the benchmark data was collected prior to the pandemic. This may impact how your City’s 2022 ratings compare to other communities’ ratings from the past five years.

Trends over time

Trend data for Englewood represent important comparison data and should be examined for improvements or declines*. Deviations from stable trends over time represent opportunities for understanding how local policies, programs, or public information may have affected residents' opinions. Changes between survey years have been noted with an arrow and the percent difference. If the difference is greater than seven percentage points between the 2020 and 2022 surveys, the change is statistically significant.

* In 2020, The NCS survey was updated to include new and refreshed items. Consequently, some of the trends may be impacted due to wording modifications that could have potentially altered the meaning of the item for the respondent.

Methods

Selecting survey recipients

All households within the City of Englewood were eligible to participate in the survey. A list of all households within the zip codes serving Englewood was purchased from Go-Dog Direct based on updated listings from the United States Postal Service. Since some of the zip codes that serve the City of Englewood households may also serve addresses that lie outside of the community, the exact geographic location of each housing unit was compared to community boundaries using the most current municipal boundary file. Addresses located outside of the City of Englewood boundaries were removed from the list of potential households to survey. From that list, addresses were randomly selected as survey recipients, with multi-family housing units (defined as those with a unit number) sampled at a rate of 5:3 compared to single family housing units.

An individual within each household was selected using the birthday method. The birthday method selects a person within the household by asking the “person whose birthday has most recently passed” to complete the questionnaire. The underlying assumption in this method is that day of birth has no relationship to the way people respond to surveys. This instruction was contained in the introduction of the survey.

Conducting the survey

The 2,800 randomly selected households received mailings beginning on June 6th, 2022 and the survey remained open for 7 weeks. For 2,800 households, the first mailing was a postcard inviting the household to participate in the survey. The next mailing contained a cover letter with instructions, the survey questionnaire, and a postage-paid return envelope. The follow-up mailing asked those who had not completed the survey to do so and those who had already done so to refrain from completing the survey again.

About 7% of the 2,800 mailed invitations or surveys were returned because the household address was vacant or the postal service was unable to deliver the survey as addressed. Of the remaining 2,605 households that received the invitations to participate, 365 completed the survey, providing an overall response rate of 14%. The response rate was calculated using AAPOR’s response rate #2* for mailed surveys of unnamed persons.

It is customary to describe the precision of estimates made from surveys by a “level of confidence” and accompanying “confidence interval” (or margin of error). A traditional level of confidence, and the one used here, is 95%. The 95% confidence interval can be any size and quantifies the sampling error or imprecision of the survey results because some residents’ opinions are relied on to estimate all residents’ opinions. The margin of error for the City of Englewood survey is no greater than plus or minus five percentage points around any given percent reported for all respondents (365 completed surveys).

In addition to the randomly selected “probability sample” of households, a link to an online open participation survey was publicized by the City of Englewood. The open participation survey was identical to the probability sample survey with a question about where they heard about the survey. The open participation survey was open to all city residents and became available on July 11th, 2022. The survey remained open for 2 weeks. The data presented in the following tabs exclude the open participation survey data, but a tab at the end provides the complete frequency of responses to questions by the open participation respondents.

Analyzing the data

Responses from mailed surveys were entered into an electronic dataset using a “key and verify” method, where all responses are entered twice and compared to each other. Any discrepancies were resolved in comparison to the original survey form. Range checks as well as other forms of quality control were also performed. Responses from surveys completed on Polco were downloaded and merged with the mailed survey responses.

The demographics of the survey respondents were compared to those found in the 2010 Census and 2020 American Community Survey estimates for adults in the City of Englewood. The primary objective of weighting survey data is to make the survey respondents reflective of the larger population of the community. The characteristics used for weighting were age, sex, race, Hispanic origin, housing type, housing tenure, and area. No adjustments were made for design effects. Weights were calculated using an iterative, multiplicative raking model known as the ANES Weighting Algorithm.* The results of the weighting scheme for the probability sample are presented in the following table.

NRC aligns demographic labels with those used by the U.S. Census for reporting purposes, when possible. Some categories (e.g., age, race/Hispanic origin, housing type, and length of residency) are combined into smaller subgroups.

		Unweighted	Weighted	Target*
Age	18-34	19%	37%	37%
	35-54	27%	30%	30%
	55+	54%	33%	33%

	Male 55+	23%	15%	15%

The survey datasets were analyzed using all or some of a combination of the Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS), R, Python and Tableau. For the most part, the percentages presented in the reports represent the “percent positive.” The percent positive is the combination of the top two most positive response options (i.e., excellent/good, very safe/somewhat safe, essential/very important, etc.), or, in the case of resident behaviors/participation, the percent positive represents the proportion of respondents indicating “yes” or participating in an activity at least once a month.

On many of the questions in the survey respondents may answer “don’t know.” The proportion of respondents giving this reply is shown in the full set of responses included in the tab “Complete data”. However, these responses have been removed from the analyses presented in the reports. In other words, the tables and graphs display the responses from respondents who had an opinion about a specific item.

Highlights

Although Englewood's economy remains an area of focus, employment opportunities are on the rise.

Residents offered high ratings of importance (86% essential or very important) and relatively lower ratings of quality (47% excellent or good) to Englewood's overall economic health, suggesting that this facet of livability may be an important focus area for the city. While most ratings related to Englewood's economy were on par with national averages, results indicated the need for continued attention in this area, particularly regarding general affordability. The cost of living was rated positively by roughly one-third of respondents, on par with national averages. Additionally, about 2 in 10 gave favorable marks to the availability of affordable quality housing. Residents are less optimistic about their own economic outlook as well. When asked what impact the economy would likely have on their family income in the next six months, only about 1 in 10 anticipated that it would be very or somewhat positive.

However, about 7 in 10 evaluated the overall quality of business and service establishments in Englewood as excellent or good. Englewood's shopping opportunities and the vibrancy of the city's downtown/commercial area were favorably reviewed by slightly over half. About two-thirds gave positive marks to the variety of business and service establishments, a 10% increase from 2020 (55% in 2020 compared to 65% in 2022). Survey participants also saw improvements in the city's employment opportunities, which increased from 35% in 2020 to 44% in 2022.

Residents continue to identify safety and inclusivity as potential areas of growth for the City.

Safety remains a top priority for residents, with 91% rating it an essential or very important focus area for the City in the next two years. About 43% positively rated the overall feeling of safety as it relates to Englewood as a whole, a 13% decline from 2022 results (56% excellent or good). Nearly 9 in 10 respondents said they felt very or somewhat safe in their neighborhood during the day, on par with national trends. A slightly lower proportion felt similarly in Englewood's downtown/commercial area during the day (76%). 7 in 10 also felt very safe or somewhat safe from violent crime, while about half did from property crime. Police services were praised by over 6 in 10 residents, however only one-third positively rated crime prevention, a steep decline from 2020 (50% in 2020, compared to 35% in 2022). In a custom question unique to Englewood, about 4 in 10 residents gave favorable marks to law enforcement treating all residents fairly.

When asked about the City of Englewood's commitment to creating a community welcoming to residents of all backgrounds, about 6 in 10 gave the City excellent or good rating. Just over half offered positive reviews to the job Englewood does at attracting people from different backgrounds, on par with the national average. Nearly 6 in 10 participants praised Englewood's openness and acceptance of the community toward people of diverse backgrounds. Fewer residents in 2022 compared to 2020 gave excellent or good evaluations to the job Englewood does at taking care of vulnerable residents (38%; a 7% difference).

Community members appreciate the local governance and services provided by Englewood.

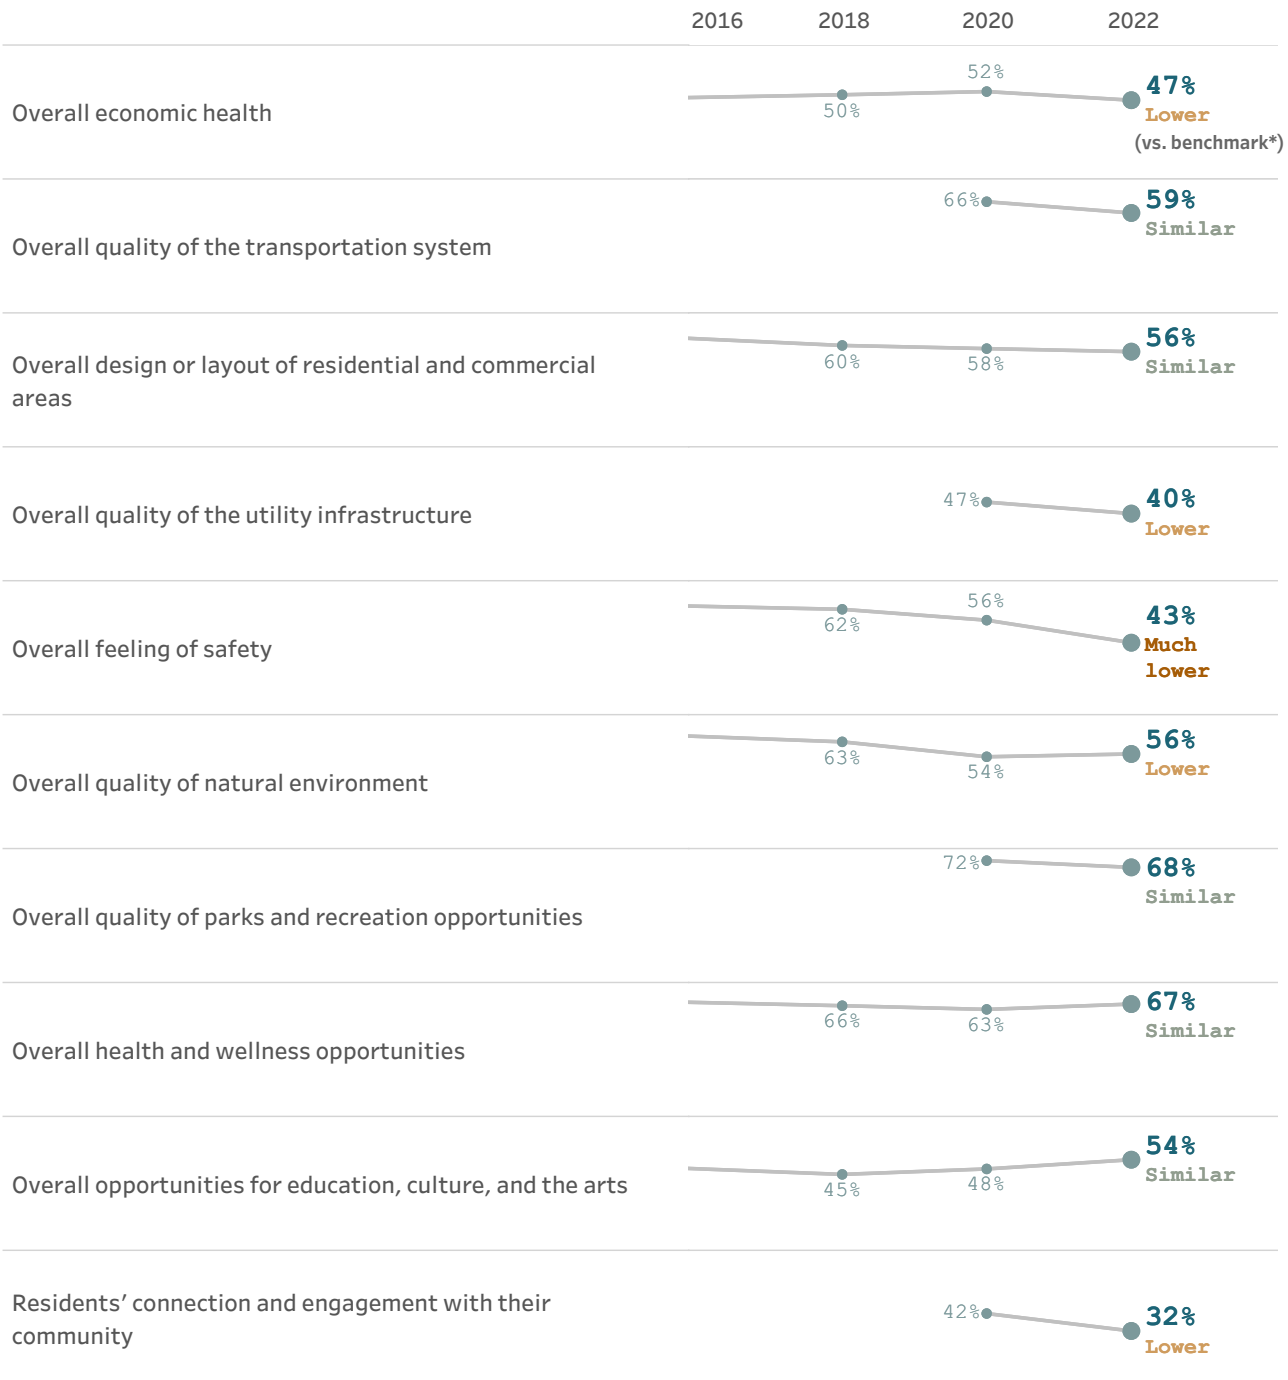

The quality of services provided by the City of Englewood and the overall customer service by Englewood employees were rated either excellent or good by nearly 7 in 10 community members. In addition, about 6 in 10 survey participants applauded city public information services. About half gave high marks to Englewood's government: being honest (47%), being open and transparent to the public (49%), generally acting in the best interest of the community (48%), the overall direction that Englewood is taking (51%), and the job Englewood's government does at welcoming resident involvement (48%). All survey results relating to Englewood's government were on par with comparison communities across the nation.

Facets of livability

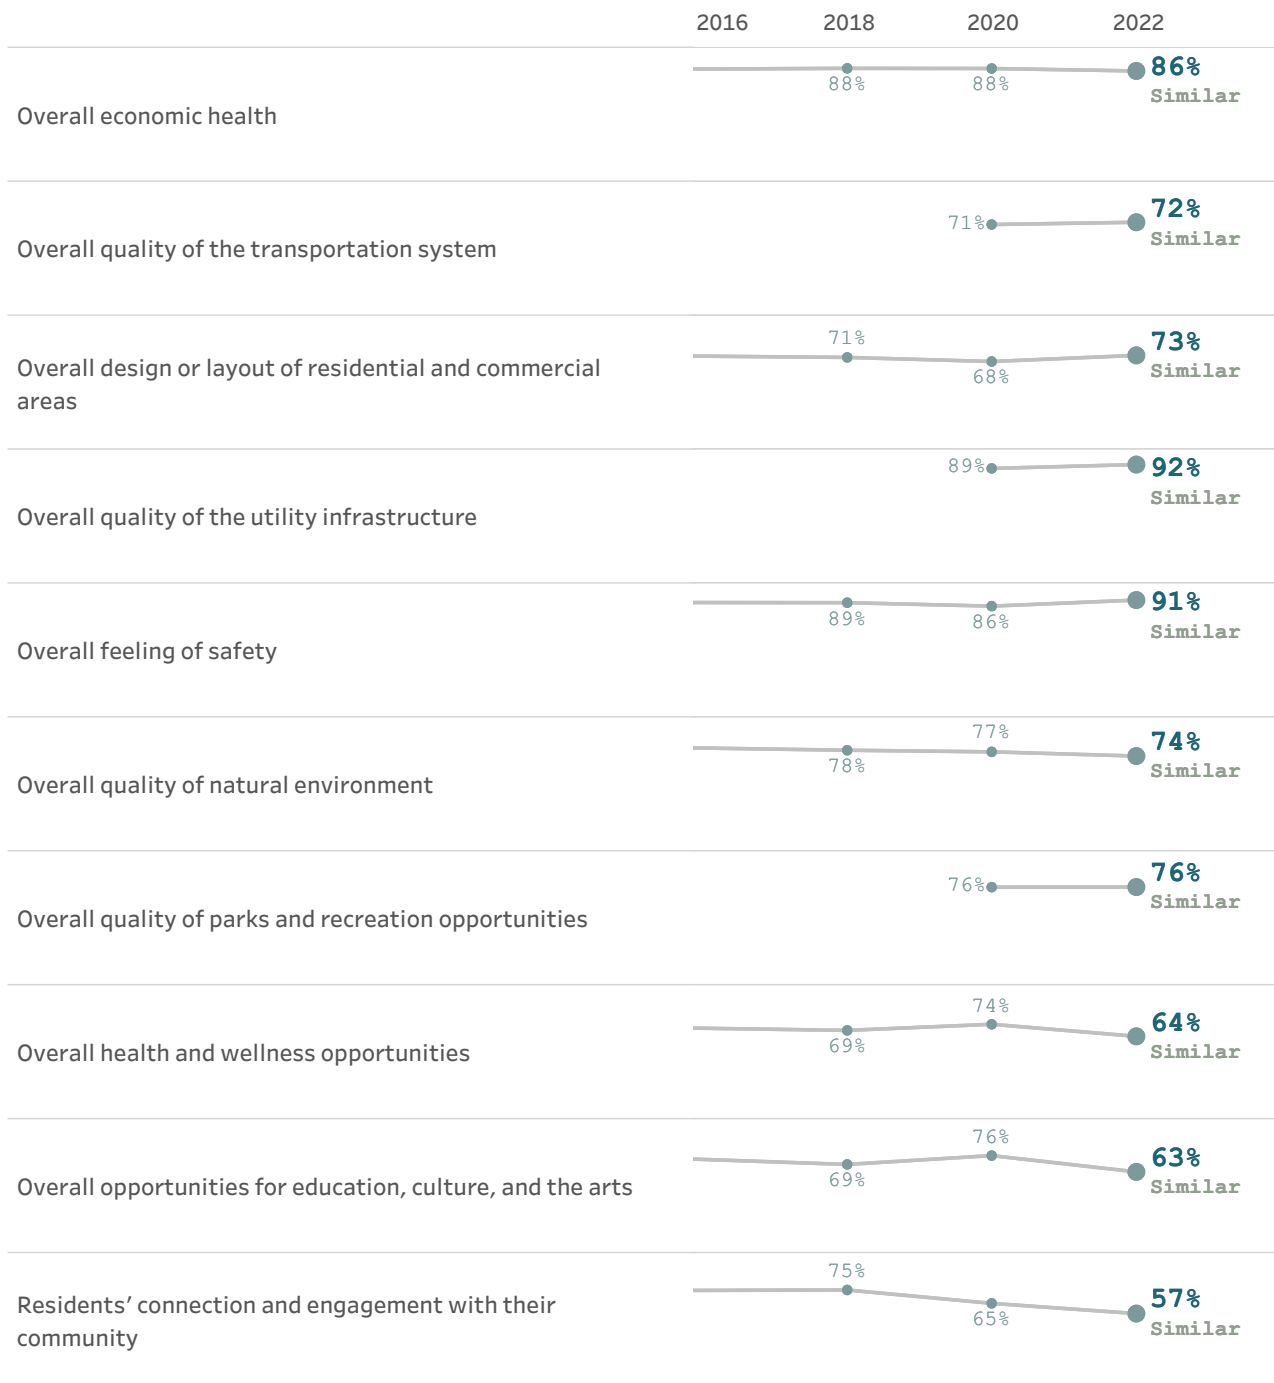

Resident perceptions of quality and importance for each of the facets of community livability provide an overview of community strengths and challenges that are useful for planning, budgeting and performance evaluation.

The charts below show the proportion of residents who rated the community facets positively for quality and the priority (importance) placed on each. Also displayed is whether local ratings were lower, similar, or higher than communities across the country (the national benchmark).

Balancing performance and importance

Every jurisdiction must balance limited resources while meeting resident needs and striving to optimize community livability. To this end, it is helpful to know what aspects of the community are most important to residents and which they perceive as being of higher or lower quality. It is especially helpful to know when a facet of livability is considered of high importance but rated as lower quality, as this should be a top priority to address.

To help guide City staff and officials with decisions on future resource allocation, resident ratings of the importance of services were compared to their ratings of the quality of these services. To identify the services perceived by residents to have relatively lower quality at the same time as relatively higher importance, all services were ranked from highest perceived quality to lowest perceived quality and from highest perceived importance to lowest perceived importance. Some services were in the top half of both lists (higher quality and higher importance); some were in the top half of one list but the bottom half of the other (higher quality and lower importance or lower quality and higher importance); and some services were in the bottom half of both lists.

Services receiving quality ratings of excellent or good by 55% or more of respondents were considered of “higher quality” and those with ratings lower than 55% were considered to be of “lower quality.” Services were classified as “more important” if they were rated as essential or very important by 74% or more of respondents. Services were rated as “less important” if they received a rating of less than 74%. This classification uses the median ratings for quality and importance to divide the services in half.

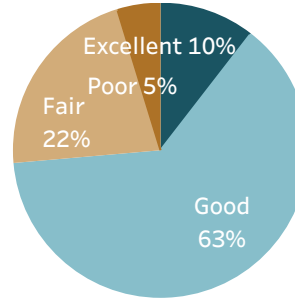

The quadrants in the figure below show which community facets were given higher or lower importance ratings (right-left) and which had higher or lower quality ratings (up-down). Facets of livability falling closer to a diagonal line from the lower left to the upper right are those where performance ratings are more commensurate with resident priorities. Facets scoring closest to the lower right hand corner of the matrix (higher in importance and lower in quality) are those that may warrant further investigation to see if changes to their delivery are necessary to improve their performance. This is the key part of this chart on which to focus. Facets falling in the top left hand corner of the chart (lower in importance but higher in quality) are areas where performance may outscore resident priorities, and may be a consideration for lower resource allocation.

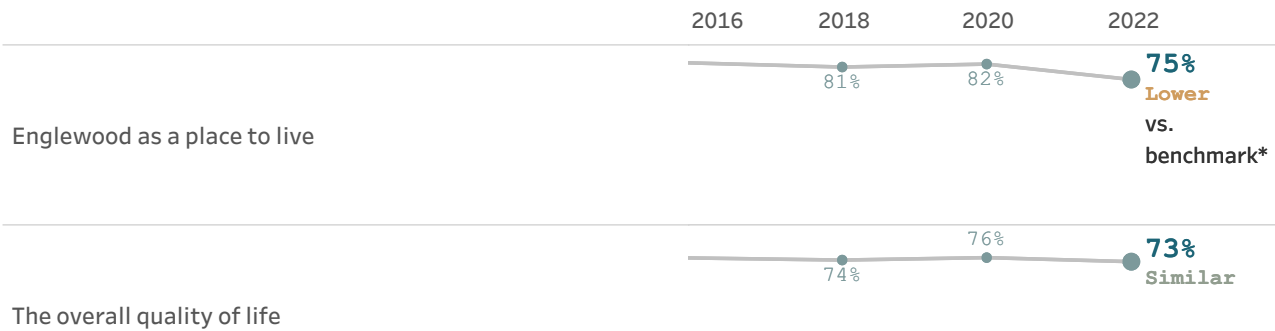

Quality of life

Measuring community livability starts with assessing the quality of life of those who live there, and ensuring that the community is attractive, accessible, and welcoming to all.

National benchmark tables

This table contains the comparisons of Englewood’s results to those from other communities. The first column shows the comparison of Englewood’s rating to the benchmark. Englewood’s results are noted as being “higher”, “lower” or “similar” to the benchmark, meaning that the average rating given by Englewood residents is statistically similar to or different than the benchmark. The second column is Englewood’s “percent positive.” Most commonly, the percent positive is the combination of the top two most positive response options (i.e., excellent/good). The third column is the rank assigned to Englewood’s rating among communities where a similar question was asked. The fourth column is the number of communities that asked a similar question. The fifth column shows the percentile for Englewood’s result -- that is what percent of surveyed communities had a lower rating than Englewood.

This dashboard contains a complete set of responses to each question on the survey. By default, "don't know" responses are excluded, but may be added to the table using the response filter to the right. In some tables, the percentages may not sum to 100%; this is either because the question permitted the respondent to "choose all that apply", or for a question that asked the respondent to select one answer, it is due to the customary practice of rounding values to the nearest whole number.

Full trends

This table contains the trends over time for the City of Englewood. The combined "percent positive" responses for each survey year are presented (e.g., excellent/good or yes). If an item was not included during an administration of the survey, no percentage will be shown in the table. If the difference between the 2020 and 2022 surveys is greater than seven percentage points, the change is statistically significant.

It is important to note that in 2020, The NCS survey was updated to include new and refreshed items. Consequently, some of the trends may be impacted due to wording modifications that could have potentially altered the meaning of the item for the respondent.

Methods (open participation)

As part of its participation in The National Community Survey™ (The NCS™), the City of Englewood conducted a survey of 365 residents. Survey invitations were mailed to randomly selected households and data were collected from June 6th, 2022 to July 25th, 2022. The results from this main survey effort represent the most robust estimate of your residents' opinions.

After the above data collection period was underway, a link to an online open participation survey was publicized by the City of Englewood. The open participation survey was identical to the probability sample survey with a question about where they heard about the survey. The open participation survey was open to all city residents and became available on July 11th, 2022. The survey remained open for 2 weeks and there were 88 responses.

The open participation survey data were not collected through a random sample and it is unknown who in the community was aware of the survey; therefore, a level of confidence in the representativeness of the sample cannot be estimated. Due to limited response, the results were not statistically weighted

Open participation survey results

This dashboard contains a complete set of responses to each question on the open participation survey. By default, "don't know" responses are excluded, but may be added to the table using the response filter to the right. In some tables, the percentages may not sum to 100%; this is either because the question permitted the respondent to "choose all that apply", or for a question that asked the respondent to select one answer, it is due to the customary practice of rounding values to the nearest whole number.
